

I support Xm all the way, I benefit from the weather channel because I travel on the road alot. I dont think that there is anything wrong with local information. Its no different then listening to your local news or radio station wherever you live, its very convenient. I love every channel on xm.